

Bayona

earned a full government scholarship to study business at Makerere University, the best college in Uganda.

“I am first grateful to God. Getting a government scholarship in Statistics in today’s competitive world is almost impossible.”

Bayona is an AIDS orphan. Her father died when she was young. She is the primary caregiver for her sick, bed-ridden mother. She did not have money for school fees.

“I owe my gratitude to L.E.A.D Uganda and my sponsors for their love for my future. I have always promised not to disappoint them and I have lived by my word. Being educated in Kings College Buddo, Uganda’s top legendary school, really paid off. ”

Bayona was elected Assistant Head Prefect of her high school. In 2006, she was chosen as one of two students to participate in a two-month student exchange at The Brooks School in Massachusetts. During school vacations Bayona works full time as a volunteer with a church organization counseling and tutoring vulnerable children.

As a result of her hard work in high school and the awarding of this scholarship by Uganda's government to study business statistics, Bayona Victoria will join a privileged few women students who will be able to the acquire professional management skills so vital to Uganda's well being.

“ think I was created for a time as this because society needs people who add value, people who contribute to its' well-being. With my degree in statistics, I will be capable and I will be more than ready to help Uganda face the challenges of this age and beyond. ”
